The Graphic Arts Council of Cleveland represents a wide array of businesses, educational institutions and professionals who volunteer their time and expertise to foster the Graphic Arts industry in Northern Ohio.

Formed in 1953 with the primary responsibility of handling the observance of Printing Week and to coordinate the activities of several local graphic arts group, the Graphic Arts Council supports the following major objectives:

- to encourage and provide direction to local youth and raise scholarship funding to support further education.
- to illustrate the breath of the enterprise and illustrate the progress of this rapidly changing industry.
- promote understanding and fuller cooperation between local groups.
- to recognize and pay tribute to outstanding leaders in the industry, past and present, by induction into the Graphic Arts Council's Hall of Distinction, an annual event.
